WOODBURN'S SPEECH.

We have not heretofore made reference to the maiden speech of Hon. Wm. Woodburn which was delivered in the House of Representatives on the 8th inst., his subject being the Texas Pacific Railroad, for the reason that we intended publishing the full text thereof. But we find that the speech is too lengthy to admit of reproduction in our columns. We cannot let it pass however without making some comments, without according Mr. Woodburn the full meed of praise to which he is entitled for the bold stand he assumed in behalf of an outraged and heavily burdened people. He did not wander far from his subject, his object being to show the necessity and national importance of another transcontinental railroad from Texas to the Pacific Ocean on or near the thirty-second parallel. He could not advocate such a measure without saying: "Experience has demonstrated that the Union and Central Pacific Company's line is totally inadequate to supply the increasing demands of trade and commerce, by reason of the great uncertainty in the delivery of freight in the winter season and the want of restrictions in their charters in favor of the rights of the people." It was but natural too for him to tell and protest against the discriminating policy of the Central Pacific, unrelentingly enforced in this State; of the arbitrary and exorbitant system of freight and passenger tariffs, remarkable for discrimination between localities, and in favor of California as against Nevada, and giving a brief outline, by illustration, of the system that is preying upon the vitals of our people and eating out their substance. For presenting these matters in a forcible manner to the House Mr. Woodburn is deserving the thanks of his constituents, and the approval of his own conscience. Before the expiration of his term we hope to hear that he has accomplished something toward a reversal of the present unjust condition of affairs.

DIVIDENDS.

It has been generally believed that the California mine would pay a dividend for the month of April. We confess our chagrin and disappointment in learning that the payment of the first dividend has been deferred till June instead of next month. The mine is milling 300 tons of very rich ore per day, but we understand that the whole bullion product for the month is to be put into the treasury of the company and held as a reserve fund. The Gold Hill News says this is "following the example of the Consolidated Virginia Company, and which proved such a wise policy on the occasion of the great conflagration calamity at Virginia City, when no interruption to even the regular dividends of the mine took place, although the hoisting works and other surface property were destroyed, and the working of the mine stopped entirely for weeks." We have no objection to our dividend paying mines having and accumulating to a reserve fund. But we submit that the present Consolidated Virginia reserve fund has too much money in it, and that the most of it should be divided among the stockholders. There must be at least five million dollars in that reserve fund. Last month the company took out $3,600,000; their expenses were about $500,000, and the dividend $1,080,000, leaving over two millions of dollars to be carried over to the reserve fund. With such a showing the stockholders were not unreasonable in calling for a $3 dividend instead of $2, and are right in asking an increase of dividends in the future. A reserve fund of such vast proportions is too tempting a bait not to be manipulated for the benefit of the insiders against outsiders. It is too much money for three or four men to manipulate when a thousand others have an interest in it, and are justly entitled to their proportion.

CURRENT TOPICS.

An amusing scene occurred in the House Thursday, when the Speaker administered the oath to Finney, the member who was placed in Wall's seat by a strict party vote. Finney was in the Confederate service, and the Speaker, uninformed, started to administer the iron-clad oath. Finney's upheld arm dropped as though he had been shot. Great laughter followed, an explanation was made, and a modified oath administered.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular, authorizing the redemption of national currency with subsidiary silver coin at the following offices: the Treasury of the United States at Washington; Assistant Treasurers at Boston, New York, St. Louis, Philadelphia, Charleston, New Orleans, Cincinnati, Chicago, San Francisco, Baltimore and the United States depositories at Buffalo and Pittsburgh.

A Times' Washington special hints that the delay of business in the House is for the purpose: first to make the Senate pass bills when they are received without amendment, and also to investigate and criticize the Republican candidate after he is nominated for President. This prospect suggests to all gentlemen, who desire to be President, little self-examination.

A special to the Sun from Washington alleges new discoveries of gross corruption in the Administration, and charges that large amounts of money have been used in Pennsylvania and New York for election purposes. For this object it was paid to and expended by John J. Davenport, U. S. Commissioner and Chief Supervisor of New York, from President Grant.

Professor Watson reports that he discovered on the night on the 18th instant, in the constellation Virgo, a planet hitherto unknown, continued observation of which was interrupted by clouds. He has since observed it satisfactorily. It shines like a star of the eleventh magnitude. Its position is, right ascension, 13 hours, 29 minutes; declination, 11 degrees, 47 minutes south.

The widow of President Tyler is visiting in Washington. She is yet on the sunny side of sixty, and has lost none of the beauty and sprightliness which thirty years ago made her the belle of Washington. She enjoys the distinction of being the only woman who ever married a President while he occupied the White House.

The President has approved the special report of the Commissioners to examine and survey the interoceanic canal routes, recommending the Nicaragua route. The President favors the formation of an international stock company. An effort to form a company will shortly be made.

A World's Washington special says that Chief Doorkeeper Fitzhugh, of the House of Representatives, republishes his card denying the story that he served in the penitentiary. Certified copies of indictments for arson, larceny and perjury against Fitzhugh are at hand, but the cases were never tried.

The fare to Philadelphia from New York during the Centennial will be one dollar, and many persons will reside in New York and go to Philadelphia daily, returning in the evening, as there will not be hotel accommodations enough in Philadelphia.

Sharps are trying the old dodge of putting lead pipe in imitation of twenty-dollar rolls. The imitation rolls are like the genuine; and are exact in weight. The only way to tell them is to unroll the package.

KENTUCKY produces giants, if the following, which are vouched for by the Cumberland Courier, are facts: Mrs. Chambers, who lives near Eberetville, has a son four years old, who weighs 105 pounds, and Robert Ray, of Eberetville, has a son five years old who weighs 211 pounds. Nice boys for their mammas to take across the knee!

THE SILVER TROUBLE.—The advance in silver has reassured the public considerably on the silver question. Many believe it will get back to its par value, or near it.

LATEST NEWS ITEMS.

We have from New York a frightful story implicating President Grant in fearful frauds upon the Government. Happily the matter is entirely contradicted from Washington.

The Times of New York says Bristow's prospects are brightening rapidly.

A Democratic State Convention met at Lincoln, Nebraska, on Wednesday, and elected delegates to the St. Louis Convention. It is said the delegates favor Tilden.

F. Suit of Kentucky denounces the recent charges against Bristow.

The greasers are trying to levy contributions from Americans in border towns on the Mexican side. General Ord has orders to protect the citizens, if necessary, by invasion.

The Turkish Commander, Mukhtar Pasha, reports six days' success against the Herzegovinians.

A dispatch says 7,000 Montenegrins have joined the Herzegovinians. Another dispatch says Montenegro has declared war.

It is believed in Paris that Russia is instigating the insurgents in Western Turkey.

Mrs. David Dudley Field died on Wednesday in Baltimore.

Some counties in California propose to send delegates to the Indianapolis Greenback Convention.

Anti-Coolie clubs are fashionable in California.

A CLEAR CASE OF SURPRISE.

A dispatch dated April 19th, gives the following as to how they do things in Washington:

A special to the evening Post says the first knowledge that Secretary Bristow had that members of the House Committee on Expenditures in the Treasury Department were last week secretly taking testimony regarding the old and exploded story connecting Bristow with improper transactions while District Attorney in Louisville was derived from one of the witnesses. This witness went to Bristow and said he had been confronted with certain testimony in the Committee room regarding himself, which he characterized as false in every particular. Up to the present time the Committee has not notified Bristow nor offered him an opportunity to appear and give the lie direct to these stories. Bristow has sent a letter to the Committee asking to be heard in answer to the testimony of Judge Bartley of Washington, which was taken in secret last week. Judge Bartley testified that Bristow, after seizing a number of distilleries in Kentucky, when U. S. District Attorney, took $40,000 on a consideration of resigning and procuring a release of the property. Bristow's letter protests against this method of secret proceeding and asks that he be called for examination under oath, and that the officers and records of the Courts of Louisville may be sent for, and that the investigation be made public.

A FOUR-MILE SNOW TUNNEL.

How Mackay & Fair's Fifteen-Mile Flume is Kept in Operation.

The work of sending wood through the gigantic fifteen-mile flume of Mackay & Fair isn't fun by any means. Although the snow has almost disappeared from the hills about town, it is still from fifteen to thirty feet deep in the high Sierra where the men are now at work under the supervision of J. B. Hereford. In order to supply the wood demands of the mills of the Pacific Mill and Mining Company, Mr. Hereford has been obliged to tunnel over four miles through the snow, the tunnel being used as a roadway for the wood to be floated down the flume. At every two hundred yards of this immense stretch, a crosscut, so to speak, has been made for the purpose of throwing up the snow out away in the tunneling. Working in this snow mine is very much the same as toiling in the lower levels of the Comstock, so far as light and heat are concerned. The flume is doing all that Mr. Hereford, its projector, anticipated.—Virginia Chronicle.

When President Grant reaches Philadelphia, to attend the opening of the Centennial, he will be serenaded by the combined bands of the city, numbering 200 performers, and the city will be illuminated.

TRAVEL has been opened between Carson and Lake Tahoe. The first stage went up from Carson a day or two ago.

HALLOO! if there is an honest man in Washington let him raise his hand.

NEVADA MINING NEWS.

[Gold Hill News of Thursday.]

Union Consolidated.

At the 1300-foot level the whole face of the north drift is now in very fine quartz, showing considerable improvement over last week, and giving promise of something better shortly. It continues widening as the drift progresses. The winze below the 1300-foot level is now completed to the 1405-foot level, and a drift started from it to connect with the Mexican. It is in very promising quartz and other vein matter.

South crosscut from the main southwest drift, at the 1600-foot level showing very fine looking ledge matter in its face, giving good assays from streaks. Nothing new to report at other points in this level, or of the prospecting operations at the 1400-foot level. Main shaft being sunk at the usual good rate of progress in favorable ground.

Consolidated Virginia. Daily yield, 500 tons. Notwithstanding the great quantities of ore taken from the producing levels of this mine, the diminution of quantity in the great bonanza mass is not so great as might naturally be expected, and thousands upon thousands of tons are still in sight, with plenty more to be got at when required.

California. Daily yield, 300 tons, all of which is now being crushed by the new mill of the company. This ore is very rich, and gives a splendid showing of bullion in the company's treasury. Next month another mill will be set at work on ore from this mine, as the widening out of the ore breasts gives additional facilities for extraction.

Imperial. Face of north drift at the 2000-foot level, running toward the Alpha, still in rich ore. Owing to the drift following the trend of the ledge to the eastward, it is not within sixty feet of the Alpha line, and actual survey would probably show a still greater distance. The drift of the Alpha Company, in the Imperial ground, is not into the ore vein as yet, although the indications are favorable.

Mexican. The northeast drift at the 1465-foot level continues advancing along the wall of the ore vein, occasionally cutting into the side of it, and showing streaks of good ore as it does so. Crosscutting will be commenced about the middle of next week, when very interesting results may be looked for.

Chollar-Potosi. The old upper works continue their regular yield of about 65 or 70 tons of ore per day. Average assays from car samples $36 per ton. At the 1300-foot level the east and west cross-cuts from the main south drift are going ahead as well as usual, and very good progress continues to be made in sinking the great combination shaft.

Yellow Jacket. The drifts both north and south from the middle crosscut at the 1940-foot level are progressing well and both continue in ore. The winze below the crosscut is also in ore. The crosscut east on the 1740-foot level is in 87 feet, with the face in quartz and porphyry, showing but little improvement over last week.

Overman. Bottom of shaft still in very hard rock, with somewhat of an increase in the already strong flow of water coming in. Crosscut east at the 1100-foot level still pushing ahead well. Nothing new to report here or elsewhere in the mine.

Savage. The tank stations and bob pits in the shaft, as low down as the 1800-foot level, are completed, or nearly so, and the excavations at the surface for the new and very powerful machinery contracted for are being pushed ahead industriously.

Best and Belcher. Good work is being done completing the drift connecting with the Gould & Curry at the 1700-foot level, and in about a week prospecting the ore vein at this level will be resumed under the most favorable auspices.

Ophir. Daily yield, 150 tons of ore. The various breasts and stopes are holding out finely and showing improvement at some points in both quality and quantity. The bullion yield for the month will be about $300,000.

Belcher. Daily yield, 500 tons of ore. The various stopes and breasts are holding out well, and all the mills are kept running steadily. The powerful new pumping machinery is being placed in working position as fast as is practicable with such heavy work.

Crown Point. Prospecting work at the 1600-foot level goes ahead as usual, with no particular change to report. At the 1700-foot level the face of the drift continues in low grade ore, showing a little improvement.

The mines along the Constock line are looking and promising well. The Ophir shows improvement, and important crosscutting will soon be commenced in the Mexican and other mines. The Imperial ore development is showing better and better, and that in the Yellow Jacket will be brought out all right in due time.

Street Quotations.

CLOSE CALL.—Yesterday morning, while the wind was blowing very fiercely, a pile of rubbish back of the frame house occupied by Sanders & Neill as a furniture store, on the corner of Virginia and Second streets, caught fire, and before it was discovered, gained quite a headway, and was making for that row of frame buildings as fast as the wind could send it, when, luckily for the town, it was discovered and by hard work stopped. With the wind as it was yesterday, a fire would have everything its own way. Be careful if you would escape a great fire. Look well to your stovepipes, your chimneys and your lamps. Don't let inflammable rubbish lie around in exposed positions. A mutual dependence should cause all to be particularly careful on such a day as was yesterday. Be careful.

WEATHER.—Yesterday was the most disagreeable day ever known in the history of Reno. From early morn till day eve the wind blew a perfect hurricane. Toward night it ceased and a rain storm set in which beautifully laid the dust and was gladly welcomed by all.

"JEEMS."—Col. James G. Fair arrived in Reno yesterday morning, and continued on to Virginia. He is glad to get home, and expressed himself disgusted with the Eastern country and people.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY NEWS.—At a late meeting of the Trustees all the bills against the Society were audited and ordered paid. Call on J. H. Borland, Esq., for your money. Mr. Chamberlain was also requested to put the grounds in condition for pasturage, as the Society can make a few dollars by providing pasture. A strip of land on the south side is to be purchased, which will provide room for cattle stalls. It is also intended to purchase a strip of land from Morton for a new entrance. Chamberlain is also going to make a galloping track, inside of the present race track.

PERSONAL.—Frank Kenyon, Esq., of the Lyon County Times, was in town last evening. Frank is a true representative of the press, and knows how to run a paper.

Mr. D. W. Earl came up from Sacramento yesterday. Always welcome here.

We are sorry to learn that Gen. E. S. Davis, United States Surveyor-General, is lying dangerously ill in Oakland, California, of scarlet fever.

WAGON AND BLACKSMITH SHOP.—At McFarlin's wagon and blacksmith shop will at all times be found a good supply of wagon material. A paint shop and horse-shoeing shop are connected with the establishment and all work is done strictly in accordance to order. Let those who have work which they wish done go to the shop and make their own bargains.

SALE OF WATER STOCK.—Geo. B. Hill yesterday purchased the certificates representing the capital stock of the Reno Water Company, and is now a whole corporation of himself. Mr. Hill has now entire control of the water supply of Reno. He will not raise the prices any, and will run his monopoly for the best interests of the people and himself.

GAME, FISH AND POULTRY.—C. A. Simmons is able to inform the citizens of Reno that at his place can be found all the goods for which there is any demand in this part of the country, also for every kind of foreign goods. He offers many kinds of goods that can not be seen on the coast elsewhere.

TELESCOPED.—William's train was telescoped Thursday afternoon, while he was coming from Wadsworth, by a gravel train running into it from behind. The caboose was so badly damaged that it had to be left behind. No body happened to be in the caboose at the time.

THE steamer and hand engine were housed in their new quarters yesterday for the first time. The engine house is not completed, but it is shingled and sided, so it gives all the protection necessary from the elements.

MORE SULPHUR.—Another rich strike of sulphur has been made at Steamboat. It is the best deposit yet found. Wheeler and Dean are liable to go crazy over their wealth. The new deposit is some distance from that now being worked by Duffy and is the pure stuff.

V. & T. TICKET SALES.—Local travel seems to be a little brisker than it has been for some time. Thursday the receipts for tickets at the office here were $127, and yesterday they were $127 50. No doubt the travel will be very large over the "crooked railroad" this Summer.

HEAVY SHIPMENTS.—This week the shipments from the Comstock have been unprecedentedly large—the smallest being fifty-three bars. The shipments were respectively, 83, 53, 79, 76 and 50, making a total of 349 bars for the week, up to yesterday.

TO-NIGHT the Consolidated Poe will ship two bars of bullion. A bar a day is what they average, and this will continue to be the yield until it changes to yield more than that.

CENTENNIAL BONANZA.—The four car-loads of ore—one each from the Consolidated Virginia, California, Belcher and Ophir mines arrived in Reno yesterday en route for Philadelphia. Each car contained eleven tons.

CINNABAR.—Work progresses favorably on the Nevada quicksilver mine in Evans Creek district, under direction of W. R. Chamberlain, who thinks he will develop a bonanza. The prospects are very encouraging.

THE case of D. H. Flynn occupied the attention of the District Court yesterday.

Mr. PRESCOTT, the leading dry goods merchant of this place, has returned from the city, and we must admit his importations of Spring and Summer dry goods excel anything that has ever been brought to this town, either in quality, quantity, style or price. He informs us that goods are low and at such figures only will he dispose of them. Mr. Prescott has had twenty-five years' experience in the business and during all that time he has been known to deal fairly with all, and such are his intentions for the future, so ladies, if you intend to buy goods this season his is the establishment, and all are cordially invited to call.

THERE has been a general decline in mining stocks for the past two days. We are at a loss to account for it, except upon the hypothesis that the time for their going down has arrived.

EMPEROR OF BRAZIL.—It is now evident, by the telegrams received, that the Emperor of Brazil will arrive in Reno to-morrow night, en route for San Francisco.

THE WIND STORM.—The storm which prevailed here yesterday to such a fearful extent was even more violent in Steamboat and Washoe Valleys.
